

Plug Tray Care

Congratulations! You have received some of the finest green roof plants available. A few simple steps will insure your plants remain in peak condition.

Upon receipt:

- Move the boxes into a shady location.
 - Keeping the plants in a cool location while waiting for further unpacking minimizes stress.

If your plants arrive in boxes:

- Open the boxes and spread out the trays so all of them receive light, but not direct sun.
 - Once they have been laid out, they can be held until planting for an extended time, with only occasional watering (2-3 times/week).

If your plants arrive on pallet-shippers:

- They may be left unstacked for several days, as long as they are protected from sun and wind. Water occasionally (2-3 times/week).
- Spreading out the trays and exposing them to light reduces a great deal of the risk in holding your plants.
 - Leaving your plants in the box, unopened, greatly increases your chances for loss.

Generally your green roof plants will withstand light freezing, but protection from extreme cold is important.
